ENERGY
INDABA
Solutions for Africa

1-3 March 2011 • Johannesburg

Africa, the fastest urbanising continent in the world, must provide energy to meet the annual urban growth rate, which is twice as high as Asia and Latin America. The third annual Energy Indaba 2011 will be the forum and business networking opportunity for the leading role-players planning and developing Africa's energy solutions

Energy Indaba 2011 will be held from the 1 to 3 March 2011, at the Sandton Convention Centre, Johannesburg, South Africa. The conference continues to grow and has become the foremost forum for debating Africa's energy solutions and focuses on: African power suppliers; alternative and renewable energies; oil and gas; the legal and regulatory framework, and investment opportunities in African energy projects. The exhibition has become a significant market-place for African and international stakeholders doing business in Africa's energy sector.

ATTEND ENERGY INDABA 2011 AND BENEFIT FROM:

- Networking amongst more than 300 senior level energy sector experts and decision-makers planning and developing the 21st century energy requirements for Africa.
- Hearing from more than 50 expert speakers presenting the latest and best industry practice.
- Visiting over 100 leading energy suppliers showcasing the latest technologies, equipment and services.
- Reviewing policy and regulation, industry progress, and changing market trends.

ATTEND ENERGY INDABA 2011 AND YOU WILL MEET:

- Government & Municipality Representatives
- African Utilities & African Ministers of Energy
- Project Developers / Consultants / Analysts
- Environmental Engineering
- Equipment & Technology Solutions
- Banks / Investors / Insurance
- Energy representatives from the continent
- Automotive & Transport
- Green energy experts
- Commodity Traders / Agents & Brokers
- Associations & Press

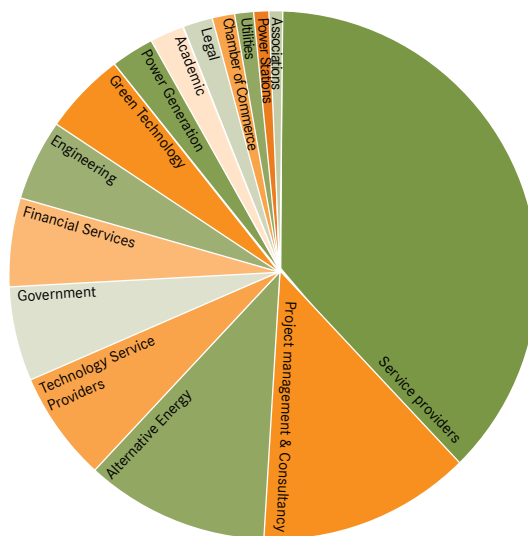

Africa Forum Chairman, Former President Chissano of Mozambique, will deliver a keynote address at Energy Indaba 2011

The Africa Forum will support and participate in Energy Indaba 2011.

The Africa Forum constitutes an informal network of former African Heads of State and Government and other African leaders, designed to support the implementation of the broad objectives of the African Union (AU) and its initiative, the New Partnership for Africa's Development (NEPAD), at national, sub-regional and regional levels.

The Energy Indaba 2011 is the opportunity for these statesmen to provide the value of their network and their ability to motivate and drive strategic agendas to assist with the challenges facing the supply of energy in Africa. www.africaforum.org.za

ENERGY INDABA 2010 OVERVIEW

The Energy Indaba 2010 was also host to the World Energy Council Africa Regional Meeting, which attracted participation from decision-makers across Africa and who also attended the Energy Indaba 2010 conference and exhibition, providing a pan-African representation of attendees. In excess of 54 speakers, including 11 international speakers, presented to over 200 decision-making delegates at the conference. The adjacent exhibition attracted 100 exhibiting companies from Africa, United Kingdom, China, India and Germany, providing confirmed trading opportunities. The formalised business matchmaking programme added great value to the participants and certainly aided in the creation of new business partnerships. Energy Indaba 2010 was supported by leading energy industry associations, business representative bodies and the media.

I cannot sing your praises enough and would recommend the Business Matchmaking Programme any time...

Cecile Joyce, Vivahetca

...without a doubt the best organized and run energy event I can ever remember being involved with and I have been to many. Congratulations!

Dr Robert Schock, Director of Studies, World Energy Council

We made extremely promising contacts and the exposure for our projects has been invaluable. We have already participated in two events with the Gauteng Premier as a direct result of our presence at the Energy Indaba.

Charmain Lines, Natural Balance

You have worked really hard to achieve this goal and all attendees realized it. Speakers' ideas on new approaches to energy in Africa were insightful and a great help to me.

Sebastián Del Hoyo, Argentina

Looking forward to Energy Indaba 2011

Barry Bredenkamp, National Energy Efficiency Agency

...an enjoyable and informative conference.

Peter Mills, Senior Legal Counsel, Vestas Pacific
